

Cheyenne Frontier Days™

WPRA Ladies Breakaway Roping

Ground Rules

July 23 – July 31, 2022

FORMAT:

QUALIFYING ROUND/Slack - July 19 (Tue) between rounds of Steer Wrestling, but not before 9:00am

WILDCARD ROUND - July 20 (Wed) at 7:00am

All 200 entries will rope one head in the qualifying round, July 19. Qualifying will be divided into two “sets” or rotations of 100. Thirty fastest times from each set will advance to the Quarter Finals/Performances, July 23-28. July 20, a wildcard round will be held for those who did not qualify. The top twelve from this wildcard round will earn a spot in the quarter finals, July 23-28. All ties for advancement will be recognized and advanced. Ties will be placed in performances 1-6 prospectively and as evenly as possible.

Calves for the breakaway roping Qualifying Rounds will be 100 of the calves from the Tie Down Qualifying Round that were not taken to the performances. Qualifying round on July 19 and wildcard round on July 20 will be chute run. Committee will provide one half enough calves plus have enough for extras.

After the qualifying round, the fastest 30 times from each set will advance to the first six performances. Quarter Finals consists of twelve competitors each day. Quarter Finals positions will be placed by random draw, holding 12 positions for contestants qualifying through the wildcard round. Trades for the advancing qualifying round contestants must be completed with the secretary one (1) hour after the round ends on July 19. Trades for the advancing wildcard round contestants must be completed with the secretary one (1) hour after the round ends on July 20. Will draw for position after trades are complete.

Top four fastest times from each perf advance to the Semi-Finals, July 29 & 30.

QUARTER FINALS – July 24 – 29 at 12:45 pm

12 calves plus extras from the calves in the qualifying rounds (tie down roping or breakaway roping to be determined by chute boss and stock contractor) will be used for the first performance (July 23). Performances 2 through 6 will be calves that were roped in the tie down roping the day before.

Advancing contestants from the qualifying and wild card rounds will rope in one of 6 quarter finals performances July 23 – July 28 (12 each day). The top four each day will be paid, and advance to the semifinals July 29 & 30 (12 Each Day). If less than four qualified runs in any performance, only the contestants making a qualified run will advance.

Placing in the semifinals will be determined by placings in the quarter final rounds and will be determined by the PRCA, the same as the PRCA events.

Ties for advancement in any round will be recognized and advanced.

Quarter Finals Performance with less than four qualified runs:

There will be a minimum of 12 contestants in each Semi-Final. If any Quarter Final performance advances less than four contestants, the following procedure will be used to fill the open position within the Semi-Finals.

- 1) The position will first be filled by any contestant(s) involved in a tie in a Quarter Finals performance that resulted in more than four contestants advancing. In such case, tie breaker will place the tied contestants into 4th and 5th (or lower) placings. The 5th place contestant will take the open position created by the shortage of qualified contestants in the other Quarter Finals performance.
- 2) If there are no extra contestants to advance due to ties resulting in more than four positions moving out of any Quarter Finals performances, the fastest run not already qualified into the Semi-Finals from all Quarter Finals performances will take the position created by the shortage (the fastest among all the fifth place finishers).

If no open positions are available in the Semi-Finals, any extra roper(s) due to ties will have her Semi-Finals performance position randomly drawn by the judges and either or both Semi-Finals may have more than 12 ropers as a result.

SEMIFINALS – July 29 & 30 at 12:45 pm

Calves for Semi-Finals will be those which the Semi-Finalists have competed on during the Quarter Finals; contestants will carry their cattle forward to the Semi-Finals round. Extras will be chosen by the judges from the next fastest, non-qualifying runs from the Quarter Finals.

Placing in the Semi-Finals will be determined by placings in the Quarter Finals rounds as follows:

Semi-Finals 1 (July 29, 7th performance) — Qualifiers from performances 4,5,6

Semi-Finals 2 (July 30, 8th performance) — Qualifiers from performances 1,2,3

If placings are tied, the contestant with the fastest time from the qualifying and/or wildcard round will advance. If still tied, the contestant placing highest in the 2022 Pro Rodeo Breakaway World Standings as of June 27, 2022 will advance. Contestants will be allowed to trade in the Semi-Finals up to 5pm on the day prior to the 7th performance. Trades will be handled by the rodeo secretary. To trade contestants must fill out a trade form at then Cheyenne rodeo office. Once all trades are complete the for the Semi-Finals performances, competition positions will be drawn.

The top 6 from each semifinal, will advance to the finals on Sunday, July 31. Competition order will be drawn randomly by the judges. Ties for advancement in any round will be recognized and advanced.

If there are less than 6 qualified times in one of the Semi Finals Performances, the contestant with the fastest time from the other Semi Finals will advance.

If there are not 12 qualified times from both Semi-Finals performances, the Semi Finalist with the fastest time from the Quarter Finals rounds, who has not already qualified for the finals, will advance to the Finals until the field is full at 12.

FINALS – July 31 at 12:45 pm

Calves from Finals will be those which the Finalists have competed on during the Quarter Finals and Semi-Finals; contestants will carry their cattle forward to the Finals round.

The fast time on the 1st will be the CFD Champion. In the event of a tie for first place in the finals, co-champions will be recognized.
